Answering the Call: Local Volunteers Help Fight Wildfires

Firefighters Jason Shurvell, Nick Radalinsky and Travis Suski from Birtle Fire Department headed north last week with pumper #2 to help with the situation in Flin Flon photo submitted

As wildfires continue to burn across Manitoba, local firefighters from Prairie View have answered the call — demonstrating the strength of rural cooperation.

Over the past few weeks, dozens of volunteer and municipal fire departments from across the province have mobilized in response to the growing need. Among them are dedicated individuals from Birtle, Miniota, and multiple nearby communities.

Seven members from West Central Mutual Aid deployed to Eastern Manitoba on May 30th, where they joined value protection efforts. Working in difficult terrain and long hours, they became part of a team effort tackling the fires in that region.

As the situation escalated in northern Manitoba, further help was requested near Flin Flon. After returning home, one Birtle firefighter volunteered once again — this time joining Hamiota's crew to support efforts on the front lines of one of the province's largest wildfires.

By Thursday, three more Birtle firefighters brought additional support and a pumper truck to the Flin Flon region.

This work is part of a much larger, province-wide mutual aid response involving fire departments from across the province. Together, departments are working side-by-side to safeguard homes and communities.

Art has always played a vital role in bringing people together. It connects us, inspires us and gives us space to express who we are. The Birtle Centre of the Arts is a shining example of how the arts can unite and uplift people of all ages.

At Birtle Centre of the Arts, creativity knows no age limit. From pottery and painting to rug making and more, the Centre offers a wide range of classes designed to spark imagination, build skills, and foster connection. Whether you're a beginner picking up a paintbrush for the first time or rediscovering a love for creating, there's a place for everyone.

But the Centre is more than just a space for art - it's a hub for community. It's where friendships form, where generations come together, and where creativity becomes a shared experience. It's a place where stories are told not just through words, but through colour, texture, and design.

None of this would be possible without the generous support of our sponsors and community. Their contributions help ensure that the arts remain accessible to all, not just in Birtle, but also in the surrounding communities. Thanks to the support of our contributors, we're able to keep classes affordable, materials available, and opportunities open to everyone.

Art strengthens communities.

Tera Woodyard Appointed High School Math Teacher Lead PWSD

The Board of Trustees is pleased to announce the appointment of Tera Woodyard as the High School Math Teacher Lead. She will serve in this 0.50 FTE term role from September 3, 2025, to June 30, 2026 while continuing to teach at Strathclair School.

Tera brings a wealth of experience in mathematical pedagogy across all streams and grade levels of high school math. She has designed and implemented a self-paced, mastery-based math program for Grade 9, as well as an interdisciplinary, project-based learning program for Grade 9 while working in Winnipeg for 10 years. During this time, she also developed a library of Manitoba Curriculum-aligned math videos for several high school math courses. Along the way, Tera has seized numerous opportunities to refine her math teaching skills, including serving on the Provincial Test Development Committee for Grade 12 Pre-Calculus, participating in Global Competencies working groups to provide Stories of Practice and a mathematical perspective, and delivering professional development at the school, divisional, and provincial levels. Since joining Strathclair four years ago, Tera has worked closely with her colleagues to create rigorous, robust, and relational strategies that drive the math program.

She was also a co-reipient of the Manitoba Excellence in Education Award for Outstanding Team Collaboration in April 2019.

Tera's natural ability to collaborate and her passion for math, combined with her deep commitment to helping students see themselves as capable learners, fuel her dedication to making math accessible, joyful, and confidence-boosting. She is passionate about championing mathematics in ways that reduce anxiety and foster resilience, using student voice and choice to create a more inclusive and supportive learning environment.

Tera lives in Birtle with her partner, Ethan, and their daughter, Eva, who will begin her own educational journey in Kindergarten at BES this fall.

Please join us in welcoming Tera to her new role as High School Mathematics Teacher Lead. We look forward to the continued success and positive contributions she will bring to the division.

Birtle News

Congratulations to Payton Malchuk who graduated in May from Assiniboine Community College with an Agribusiness Diploma. Payton is the daughter of Cheri and Mike Malchuk of Birtle.

Prairie View Fire Services sent seven members to the Eastern part of the province last week to assist with fighting the wild fires. Birtle members attending were Tom Cottingham, Travis Suski, Zoey Jebb and Jason Shurvell. Grateful for you service!

Sympathy of the Birtle Community is extended to the family and friends of Chris Bryant of Miniota who passed away last week. Our thoughts are with all at this sad time.

Bev Lee had a visit from her son Kelly, his wife Shannon and her granddaughter Anastasia last weekend. On Sunday, June 1st Bev became a great-grandma again. Memphis Daun is the son of Bev's granddaughter Jade and per partner Nevada from Strathmore, AB. Congratulations!

During May the Grade One class from Birtle Elementary School under the guidance of their teacher, Mrs. Miller and her helper Mrs. Ranger ventured out of the classroom to visit with their Senior buddies at the Pioneer Lodge lounge for five weeks on Thursday afternoons from 2:00 to 3:00. The first Thursday each student introduced themselves, said who their parents are and where they live and then paired up with a Senior buddy and read to them. The second Thursday they gave their buddies instructions on how to play Uno before pairing off to read another story to a senior buddy. The third Thursday they entertained their buddies with a Reader's Theatre entitled "Three Billy Goats Gruff" and then paired off again to read to their buddies. Week four the students instructed their senior buddies on how to draw a frog and color it with chalk before they read to their buddies. The final week they read to their buddies and then celebrated a successful month of learning with sharing a decorated cake that said

"Thank You Senior Buddies" which was followed by playing games with their buddies. We are not sure who enjoyed this more, the seniors or the students.

On the weekend of June 1st, Keith and Joy Bamford of Winnipeg and Jean Ashcroft of Ft. Qu'Appelle, SK were here visiting with Iris Bamford. On Saturday they spent a very enjoyable day at Clear Lake. On Sunday Jean along with Iris drove to Ft. Qu'Appelle where Iris spent a few days visiting with Jean's family. Iris enjoyed hearing her great-granddaughter, Alice Olsen, play her oboe at a music recital. On Wednesday she enjoyed another musical evening listening to Jazz music from the Collegiate that her great-grandson, Ryla Olsen, attends. Ryla was singing in the choir and playing his bass saxophone. She says it was a busy few days!

Our volunteer fire-fighters have once again responded to the call for assistance in fighting the forest fires. Nick Radalinsky, Travis Suski and Jason Shurvell left on Thursday, June 5th, with pumper #2 and headed up to help with the situation in Flin Flon. Another member, Zoey Jebb, was already up there assisting the Hamiota Fire Department. They all safely returned on Sunday June 8th. Thanks once again for your service.

On Sunday, June 8th, sixteen members of the Birtle United Church gathered to celebrate Pentecost Sunday, which is known as the birth of the church through the Holy Spirit. They celebrated the 100th Birthday of the United Church of Canada which was formed on June 10, 1925. The United Church Women (UCW), their roles and accomplishments were acknowledged as well. Holy Communion was shared and following the service they enjoyed refreshments and birthday cake, prepared by Ping Mai. Ron and Brenda Samchuk made a video of the service which will be aired on Westman Cable on June 15.

Happy Birthday wishes are being sent out to our head greenskeeper at Birtle Riverside Golf Course. Leonard became a member of the Brown Envelope Club (or as Canada Revenue prefers-the direct deposit club) on June 9th.

Congratulations to Nick and Laura Tremblay on the birth of their daughter Ainsley Lacey Joy on May 19th, a little sister for Brielle. Ainsley is also welcomed by grandparents Blaine and Tracey Peel and great grandparents Murray and Bev Peel and Harold Ladyka, along with the Tremblay grandparents.

Our Miniota and area communities are saddened with the news of the tragic death of Chris Bryant. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his wife Adrienne, his daughters Emily, Baylie and Quinn; his parents Stan and Bonnie, and his brothers Dean and Denise and Sean and Mel and their families. We also hold Susanne and Ron Burdett and their family in our thoughts, along with Chris and Adrienne's many friends.

Nick Young and Ryan Brown of the Miniota Fire Department, along with other members of this West Central Mutual Aid district, have travelled to the eastern part of our province to assist with fighting the many wild fires that continue to burn.

The Miniota Anglican United Shared ministry celebrated the 100th of the United Church of Canada this past Sunday. The actual date of union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregationalists to form the United Church of Canada took place on June 10, 1925. As well several graduates of the 2025 class, along with family members, attended as we also marked the graduation of these young people, wishing them well in their future. Worship was followed by cake, coffee and fellowship.

Collective Healing and The Power of Witnessing

In a world that often teaches us to push through pain or carry it alone in silence, there is profound medicine in being seen. One of the most powerful things we can offer each other is presence - a quiet witness to someone else's experience.

I've personally known deep loss on many occasions. And when I look back on each of those moments, the thing I remember most is who showed up. The ones who stood quietly beside me and gave me complete permission to be vulnerable. As though they expected nothing else. Their presence was and anchor. The quiet kind of love that asked nothing of me.

Last week, while out extinguishing hot spots up north, a man who had just lost his home and most of his community, came and began sharing his story with us. We stopped what we were doing. We listened. We gave him space to speak his experience out loud. And in that moment we weren't just firefighters, we were witnesses. That moment reminded me: sometimes presence is the most powerful response.

Through the years, I've been in many spaces where grief, fear and exhaustion hung heavy in the air. And although I am a problem solver at heart, I've learned that the most healing moments don't always come from fixing things. They come from simply standing beside someone. Open-hearted, steady and just being there.

There is alchemy in that kind of presence.

When we allow ourselves to truly witness another without judgment or rushing to rescue, we create a space where healing can take root. Where it's OK to accept the awfulness of it all and to feel it in its wholeness. And when we ourselves are witnessed, something inside begins to soften. The nervous system settles. The burden lightens. Our story shifts.

In some Indigenous and community healing practices, pain is not meant to be endured alone. It is shared and felt together, processed together and sometimes even surrendered together.

That's the kind of strength that we can learn together.

Loss isn't something new nor is it something that will ever end. It is a part of life. And so is the healing.

With consideration of the recent events that have impacted both our local community as well as those around us, this is a gentle reminder of the importance of patience. A reminder to slow down. To give each other space to speak, grieve or sit in silence. To be kind with our words, generous with our presence and to be willing to carry even a little of what others can no longer hold alone.

Healing takes time. And some burdens feel too heavy to carry alone.

But when community comes together we don't just share the weight - we have the ability to transform it.

Wishing you Wellness

Overwhelmed? Try This Gentle Reset

When life feels like too much or your nervous system gets stuck in survival mode (hello anxiety, freeze, or shutdown), it can be hard to know how to come back to yourself.

One of the simplest ways to support your nervous system is by returning to the present moment.

If you follow us on social media, you might've seen us sharing about Orienting — a gentle practice that helps settle your body and bring a sense of calm.

Orienting is all about pausing and noticing the world around you — with curiosity, not judgment. It's a reminder to your body that you're here, now — not stuck in past stress or future worry.

Here's how to try it:

Slowly look around the space you're in.

Notice colours, shapes, textures, sounds — anything that gently catches your attention.

Let your eyes land on something that feels pleasant or neutral.

Take a slow, easy breath. Just be here for a moment.

These small, intentional moments can help you build safety and calm from the inside out.
